

QUESTION OF PEACE OR WAR REMAINS IN HANDS OF JOINT COMMITTEES

WASHINGTON WATCHING THE SITUATION ON THE MEXICAN
ORDER VERY CLOSELY
TODAY—TAFT TO SEND
SPECIAL MESSAGE
TO CONGRESS.

THE SITUATION IS CRITICAL

Insurgents Suddenly Evacuate Agua Prieta the Scene of Monday's Battle and Disappear—Attack on Juarez by Large Force of Well Armed Rebels Has Begun, According to Late Reports To-
day.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]
Washington, April 18.—Intervention
in Mexico is up to Congress. President Taft made his attitude clear and the situation now confronts the House and senate.

Spells War.
President Taft's answer to Governor Sloan of Arizona who appealed for aid in the situation early today rests with the national law making bodies. That intervention spells war is strongly believed here.

Has Conference.
Following the cabinet meeting at which the Mexican situation was discussed today, Senator Cullum of Illinois, chairman of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations conferred with President Taft.

Stone's Views.
Senator Stone of Missouri, member of this committee, said today that the committee should not pass a resolution to Congress until it has definitely declared war against Mexico at the next reconference of fighting across the Mexican border.

Representative Sulzer, from New York, chairman of the House committee on foreign affairs, preceding a conference with the President, stated
there would be no hasty action of congress on the Mexican situation.

"The thousands of American citizens and the billion dollars' worth of American property in Mexico must be considered," he said.
Senator Cullum later intimated that both he and Representative Sulzer of the House would submit a special message from the President before any action would be taken.

Informal notice that the United States would soon receive a note from Mexico with assurances of a definite restorative policy on the border were received at the White House today.

Confirmation to the war department to the effect that the rebels had evacuated Agua Prieta was received in Washington from E. P. Grinnell of the Red Cross and Colonel Strunk, American commander at Douglas, this afternoon.

At Juarez.
El Paso, April 18.—Heavy firing
which began early today from Snitzer hill across the Rio Grande from this city is believed to foreshadow a general insurgent attack upon Juarez.

"This desultory firing in the hills
early today gave the report the long expected attack by insurgents on Juarez had begun."

With twenty-five hundred insurgent troops under Madero at Sapulpa and one thousand of the main army located by scouts twelve miles south at noon today moving toward the city
the big battle is expected by nightfall.

The federal garrison, under Col.
Amador, is frantically strengthening the defenses. Panic reigns among the people.

Expect Intervention.
London, April 18.—London papers with one exception unite today in declaring President Taft should intervene at once in the Mexican situation.

General Election.
Mexico City, Mexico, April 18.—A bill calling for a general election in Mexico authorized by President Diaz, will be introduced in the Mexican congress this afternoon. Simultaneously Diaz will submit to congress all pending peace negotiations.

Fighting Still.
Douglas, Arizona, April 18.—Although the federal losses yesterday at Agua Prieta battle was nearly two hundred dead at daylight today indicates no intention of the Diaz soldiers to abandon the struggle. The firing lasted all through the night.

When the federal troops moved on for another attack on the city early today, it was discovered the insurgents had evacuated the defenses before dawn. The federal troops then took possession of the city.

The surrender of Gen. Garcia, who crossed the border and was arrested by American troops is said to have disheartened the insurgents.
It is believed the insurgent troops have marched eastward to join the Madero forces now threatening Juarez.

BILL FOR LOWERING OF EXPRESS RATES CONSIDERED TODAY

Assemblyman Hurlbut's Measure Provides For Twenty-five Per Cent
Cut In Rates Within the State.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., April 18.—The lowering of express rates within Wisconsin, 25 per cent, with an expected saving thereby of $1,000 a day to Wisconsin patrons, is provided in a bill of Assemblyman W. E. Hurlbut of Winnebago county, offered in the house
this morning. Nearly all monopolies have in some form or other been dealt with by the legislature or railroad commission in the past, but the express companies so far have escaped
such action, although remedial legislation is pending with the railroad commission. The bill seeks immediate relief from alleged excessive charges,
calling for the enforcement of the reduced rates on August 1 next.

Based on the earnings of the companies in intrastate Wisconsin business in the past year, Assemblyman Hurlbut figures a saving to the people by his bill of over $1,000 a day, or a quarter million dollars a year. Every patron of the express companies in the state will be benefited by the passage of this bill. It provides in part:

"From and after Aug. 1, 1911, maximum lawful rates and charges for the transportation and delivery of express matter between points in this state, such transportation being wholly within this state, shall not exceed seventy-five per centum of the lawful published rates and charges as filed with the railroad commission of Wisconsin and in effect April 1, 1909, applicable to such transportation and delivery by any express carrier or carriers of express matter between such points within this state on said date."

The measure involves a fine of from $100 to $1,000 for each offense.
Observing for many years the tribute paid to Winnebago county farmers
by express companies in the delivery of their produce to city markets, Assemblyman Hurlbut resolved upon his election to the legislature to attempt to secure lower express rates. He was encouraged in this stand by the general complaints against high rates
and by remedial action by other states.

Among these is Iowa, where within the last month reduced express rates were ordered, and Nebraska, where in 1907 the legislature ordered a 25 per cent reduction and enforced it. Nebraska's rates were then ten per cent
lower than Wisconsin's.

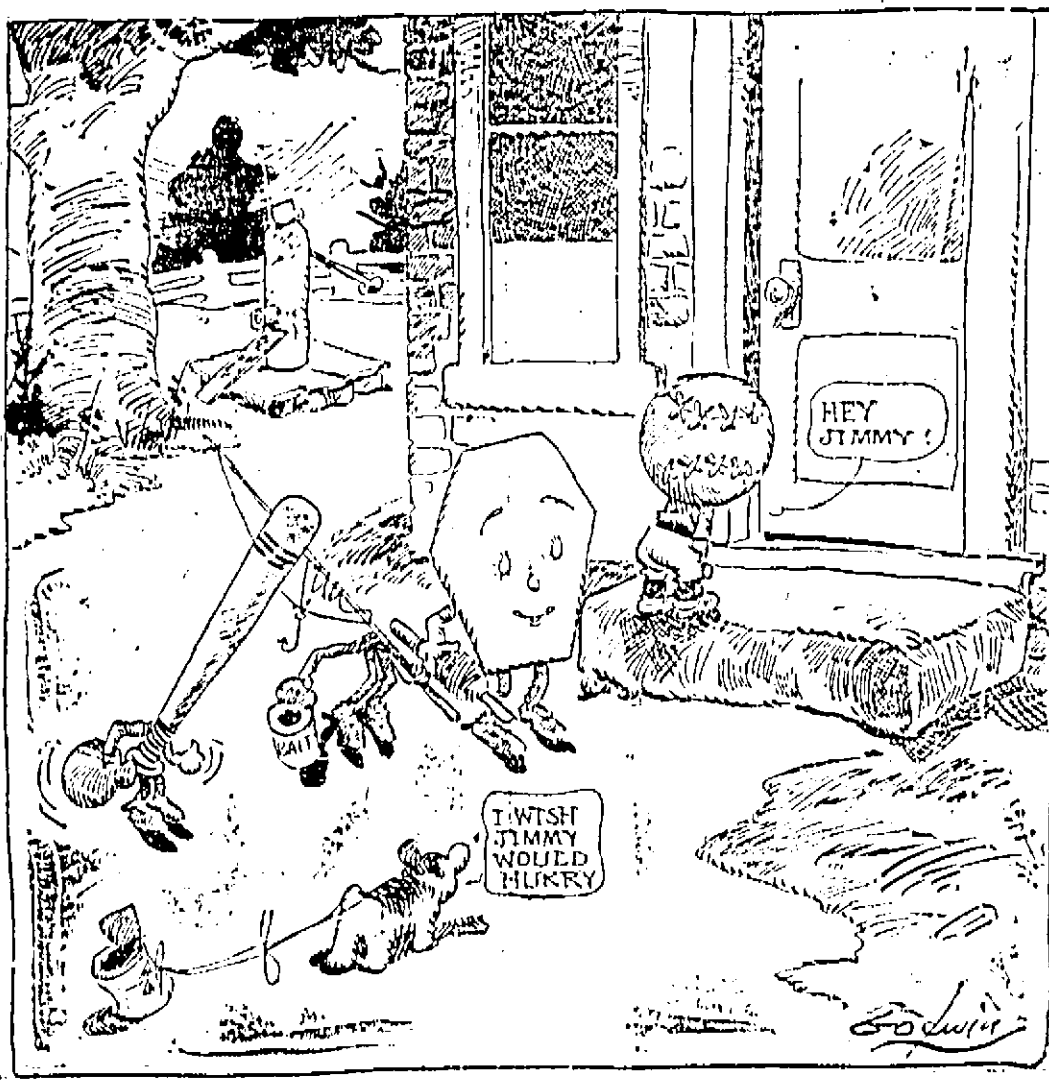

"When I came to the legislature,"
said Assemblyman Hurlbut today, "I had in mind the introduction of a bill for the lowering of express rates, but upon consultation with the railroad commission I was advised that it would be better to delay it for a time.
The commission indicated that it will be a long time before it might give its decision in the pending case of the Milwaukee Merchants' and Manufacturers' association. Without doubt a new schedule made by the commission would show a marked reduction in rates."

"In the meantime the people ask for relief. What is the use of waiting indefinitely for a decision when the legislature can put lower rates into effect at once and save $1,000 a day to the people of this state? Then the commission can raise the rates as much as in its judgment justice demands, or can reduce them still more if necessary."

Mr. Hurlbut in today's interview noted that in twelve other states reductions have been made either by direct legislation or by order of the utility commissions. He also called attention to the recent distribution of enormous profits by express companies, the Wells-Fargo having, a company, declared a stock dividend of $24, 000,000, in addition to paying annual dividends of from 25 to 50 per cent each year. Further justification for his bill is seen by Mr. Hurlbut in the fact that when the Wells-Fargo company succeeded to the business of the United States company on the St.
Paul lines in Wisconsin it raised its intrastate rates approximately 25 per cent.

Charts on file with the railroad commission show that the express rates of Wells, Fargo & Co. and of the American, National and United States Express companies in Wisconsin are higher than rates for like distances in Iowa, by from 7 to 50 per cent; in Nebraska, by 3 to 40 per cent; in Virginia, by 31 per cent on the average;
in Georgia, by 28 per cent on the average; in North Carolina, by 17 to 100 per cent; in Texas, by 7 to 60 per cent; in Missouri, by 28 per cent on the average; and higher than rates insured by the state commissions in New Hampshire and Oklahoma by 6 to 60 per cent. The express companies' scale for Wisconsin is shown to range from 11.1 per cent to 53.8 per cent higher than the Minnesota commission scale for the same distance. Cautions are about the same in both states. The carriers have agreed to question their reasonableness in court. The Wisconsin rates are like wise shown to be greatly excessive in comparison with the rates for like distances of the Canadian Express company on the lines of the Canadian Pacific railroad in the sparsely settled
country of Canada.

The profits of the companies are alleged to be excessively high, carriages above all expenses ranging from 25 to 500 per cent. These profits in most cases, it is declared, have come out of the people who patronized the companies, for the express company developed not from a highly capitalized original investment but from a capitalism carried about by Adams, founder of the Adams Express company.

No wonder the hours in the schoolroom seem to pass so slowly.

Charitable and Penal Institutions.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]

Madison, Wis., April 18.—An increase of 8 per cent in two years in the number of insane persons incarcerated in Wisconsin state and county asylums is shown in compilation of statistics unimpaired by the state board of control today. Two years ago the total was 6,156, or one to every 359 of the population, and on March 31 of this year it was 6,687, an increase of 531.
Of the latter total, 4,879 were in county
asylums and 620 in the Milwaukee hospital, which institutions are not under the direct control of the state.

The census figures issued by the

the state charitable and penal institutions there were on March 31, 4,035

LEGISLATURE SAVED THE SENATE TODAY FROM ABOLISHMENT

Members of State Senate Refused To Vote For Socialist Resolution To Abolish National Body.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]

Madison, April 18.—Republican and democratic members of the Senate today "saved the United States Senate
from abolition."

They at least take credit for this and by refusing to vote in favor of the resolution proposed by socialist Zephy which provided to abolish the United States Senate and thus do away with the corrupt efforts of individuals who gain a seat in the highest law making body.

The resolution in the Senate to adjourn the legislature on May 5 was today laid over for one week. Senator Hobbs chairman of the committee which introduced the resolution declared today it would be an impossibility for the legislature to adjourn on that date. He predicted no success for the resolution.

The Senate also participated in a lively discussion of the committee bill to make women eligible to all county offices with the exception of the judiciary. The measure was ordered engaged and read a third time. It will come up for passage into this week.

The Senate passed the Donald bill requiring instruction in physical training to be given in all high schools and county training and state normal
schools in Wisconsin.

The measure requiring legislative candidates at primary and general elections to declare whether or not they will vote, the peoples choice was today advanced in the Senate by a vote of 12 to 8. The measure will come up for passage this week.

FORGER WANTED AT MONROE, NABBED AS HE LEAVES AUBURN

Harry Jacobson Taken by Green
County Sheriff As He Finishes
Four Year Term at Auburn.

Monroe, April 18.—Harry C. Jacobson, a New York convict, was nabbed
at the doors of Auburn prison today
by John W. Gardner of Brodhead, a Green county deputy sheriff, as Jacobson was released, after serving a four year term for forgery. He will be brought to Monroe to answer a forgery charge which has been standing against him here, where he broke jail
May 18, 1901.

Jacobson was sheriff and the prisoner, not away by overpowering Mrs.
Gardner, who was holding up turnkey
during the absence of her husband, and locked her up in a cell. Jacobson is wanted in many places for crime.
The Green county officer went to Auburn a week ago.

Jacobson disposed of a check here
for ninety-six dollars which was forged on Kaplan & Piser, a Beloit firm, and endorsed by S. P. Egl, then in the shop business here. Jacobson was awaiting trial in the circuit court.

Jacobson was added in his jail en-cino by a man named Will Cleveland,
who had just completed a forty day sentence in the jail for theft. On the day Jacobson escaped, Cleveland called at the jail and asked to see Jacobson. Sheriff Gardner was in Madison and his wife was alone at the time. She finally consented to open the outer door and was immediately seized and overpowered by Cleveland, who placed a handkerchief saturated with chloroform at her nose.

He then took the keys and unlocked
the cell door. Mrs. Gardner, however, had recovered consciousness and fought to prevent the men's escape.

She was roughly handled and thrown into a cell and all the doors locked.
Here she was found late the same afternoon by a deputy who had come with another prisoner, and it was necessary to saw the locks off the door to release her. Her shoulder was dislocated and she suffered for weeks from the nervous shock.

Meanwhile Jacobson escaped and took train at Juda. The officers in Brodhead and Janesville were nottified and a search made of the train
when it reached Janesville, but it was thought the man escaped at Hanover and disappeared. Cleveland was never found, but Jacobson was located in the Auburn prison and Gardner, now a deputy sheriff, asked permission to go after him. It is safe to say he will not escape this time.

With Overall out of the game and "King" Cole ill with malaria, the Cubs will have to do some fancy steps to keep up a front in the National League struggle.

Trying to get the goat of a youngster in the early part of the season is in vogue at present. Several American league pitchers are spreading the dope that Joe Jackson of the Naps, is a shrike, that he can't hit this ball or that ball, and that they will make a monkey out of him. Joe is Tuesday to the bull, and that they will be right at the plate, waiting for the slants of the wise pitchers.

WITH THE BOXERS.

"Eyclone" Thompson, Hugo Kelly, Frank Klaus and Jack Dillon should get together in a series of bouts and find out who is the real middle-weight champion.

APRIL SESSIONS OF COUNTY BOARD

DELAY IN STARTING SESSION DUE TO ABSENCE OF TWO MEMBERS.

MUCH BUSINESS TO BE DONE

Will Probably Last Through the Remainder of the Present Week—
Paul Re-elected Chairman.

It was after three this afternoon when the April session of the Rock county board of supervisors was called to order the election of a new chairman to succeed John A. Paul as chairman.

The delay was due to the fact that the board members wished to await the arrival of Assemblymen Gottlieb and Smith of Beloit, both prominent board members, who came down on the afternoon train.

Mr. Paul was re-elected chairman without opposition and the general routine work of the session began. Reports from various standing committees were heard and new ones appointed to handle the work which will be handled.

Every member of the board was present when the gavel fell at three-fifteen, and the real session began.

Janeville was represented by two ex-mayors, Heddles and Hutchinson, and Simon Smith of Beloit has served his home city several times in the same capacity.

STOPPED RUNAWAY IN BRAVE STYLE

Al Wilson and Clarence Brown of Grand Hotel Put End to Flight of Runaway Horse Yesterday.

While they are not boasting of it or planning any medals on themselves, Clerk Al Wilson and Clarence Brown of the Grand hotel have named the roles of heroes within the past twenty-four hours. There is a spirit of romance that might be woven into the tale but both aver they are not romancers. Here is the tale as they tell it:

Wilson and Brown were standing in front of the hotel yesterday afternoon watching the passing throngs when a cart driven by a young lady from the country started to run away, dashing madly (took phrase) down West Milwaukee street. The street is torn up between the car tracks and the bricks that have been removed are piled on either side, leaving but a narrow space for risk. Just the horse turned to the right or left onto the tracks the rig might have upset and thrown the young lady out on the hard pavement. All of this flashed through the minds of the two as they saw the runaway approaching, and both ran out to stop the horse. They caught hold of the bridle and after being dragged a few feet brought the animal to a full stop. The young lady thanked them graciously and drove off. Friends of the two, it is said, will circulate a petition for a Carnegie medal.

Annual Ball Given by Local Organization Proved Best Event in Number of Years.

Last evening at Assembly hall was held the annual ball given under the auspices of the Unique club. The affair was in every way a success and surpassed similar occasions of past years, both in brilliancy and in numbers. The decorations and excellent music all helped to make the dance a feature long to be remembered and the dancing lasted until well along into the morning.

The hall was hung with beautiful white festoons draped from several clusters suspended overhead and artificial flowers completed the effect. The music was furnished by Knoff and Hatch's orchestra who were concealed behind a bank of palms. LENROOT HITS AT THE PRESIDENT

Declares Taft Has Broken National Platform Pledges.

TAKES RAP AT THE TRUSTS

Wisconsin Progressive Assorted Reciprocity Bill Gives Manufacturers 75 Per Cent. Duty Advance Over Farmers—Exceeds Payne Law.

Washington, April 18.—Discordant notes on national politics were sounded in the house by regular and progressive Republican members during the debate on the Canadian reciprocity bill.

Representative Joseph W. Fordney of Michigan, in opposing the reciprocity agreement said:

"President Taft will be the next nominee of the Republican party for the presidency. I have a great admiration for him and I shall vote for him gladly. But I think in this treaty he has made a mistake and I reserve the right to follow my own judgment in refusing to support it."

Lenroot Attacks Taft.

Irvine L. Lenroot, progressive representative from Wisconsin, said the president had reversed his position with reference to the Republican tariff policy; that he had broken the pledges of the Republican national platform, and that his statement made in advocacy of the tariff treaty that there was no difference in cost of production between this country and Canada was refuted by facts published by the tariff board.

"Progressive Republicans," said Lenroot, "stand for consistent policies. If protection is to continue farmers must be placed on the same footing as manufacturers. The same theory applies with us if free trade is to come. Protection is bad when it gives to the trusts—I need not give the list—license to plunder, and this they have when the duty is far above the difference in cost of production at home and abroad."

Worse Than Payne Law.

"This reciprocity bill which President Taft has sent to us gives the manufacturers a 75 per cent. duty advance over the farmers. It is worse in this respect than the Payne tariff law. It is a violation of the Republican party platform which declared the tariff should be revised and duties based on the cost of production with a reasonable profit to the manufacturer."

"There is difference in cost of production. Agricultural products cost more to produce in this country; manufacturers cost less here than in Canada. This bill fails to give the farmer any protection. This country has no right to prosper if it applies one policy to one class of citizens and another policy to another class. If we have protection it must be for all; if free trade, it shall be for all. If there is no difference in cost of production, as President Taft says, I would vote for free trade. The farmers' free list does not apply to a single article in the Canadian treaty."

Quotes From Tariff Board.

"I have figures to prove what I say from a report of the tariff board which investigated these questions with reference to the costs of production in Canada. The board does not sustain the president. Democratic opposition to a tariff commission has been based on the assertion that such a board would be the creature of the president naming it and of the administration. I hope you will now reverse that position in view of this report and evidence that there is a board free from the influence of the administration and of its politics, and vote for a permanent non-partisan tariff commission."

Defense of the Canadian treaty were made by Peters of Massachusetts and Francis Burton Harrison of New York.

PRAYERS TO GO IN RECORD

Invocations Made by House Chaplain Will Hereafter Be Incorporated in Daily Journal.

Washington, April 18.—Upon the suggestion of Mr. Ashbrook of Ohio Speaker Champ Clark ordered the prayers of the chaplain of the house of representatives to be incorporated in the daily record of the house proceedings. Mr. Ashbrook said he did not believe there were any words spoken in the house which were more helpful and illuminating not only to the house but the country than the prayers of H. N. Conden, the blind chaplain of the house. Speaker Clark said he agreed with him and ordered the prayers to be taken down hereafter.

FEZ ATTACK DEFEATED

TRIBESMEN DRIVEN BACK WHEN THEY ATTACK PALACE.

French Send More Troops in Effort to Stamp Out Revolt by Natives in Morocco.

Fez, Morocco, April 18.—On the night of April 10 the Beni Ouarain tribesmen attempted to break through the wall of the palace of Dr. High, outside of Fez, and steal the stores of rifles, but were repulsed. Later the Beni Ouarain and Beni Molr tribesmen attacked the city, but the artillery drove them back.

Capitaine Dremont, in command of the sultan's army, advanced toward the city. The Cherada tribes offered some opposition to their return, but was defeated. The movement of Capitaine Dremont's force ends all communication which Fez had with the outside world.

Paris, April 18.—In consequence of the anarchistic conditions in Morocco France will reinforce its troops there by sending four battalions selected from the colonial army.

The situation is growing worse. Several tribes hitherto faithful to Sultan Mulai Haddi have thrown in their lot with the rebels.

The position of Fez, including the matter of lives and property of foreigners, is considered critical. The rebels are reported drawing a circle around the capital, whose only hope of safety lies in the sultan's army, commanded by Capitaine Dremont.

Despatches received here by way of Spain indicate that condition is rampant in Fez itself with food growing scarce and communication with the coast becoming daily more difficult.

The rebellious tribes seek to overthrow Mulai Haddi and proclaim the sultan's brother, Mulai Ismael, ruler of Morocco. Other native tribes between Fez and Alenjar-Kebir are said to be determined to restore the deposed Sultan Abd-el-Aziz.

Little Bed-Time Tales By EDITH HAVENS

The Messenger

THE growing things underneath the ground in the Northern country awakened from their winter sleep and wondered if it was time to shoot up into the world.

"I just hate being down here in the dark," said the violet. "Haven't we better send out our messenger to see whether Spring has come?"

"Yes, he all means," answered the crocuses. "I too do not like this awful darkness."

"Let us send the messenger, let us send the messenger," cried all the growing things together and so it was that the little snowdrop was summoned from deep down among the roots of a sunbush.

After the growing things had told him what they wanted he began to dig his way up through the soil.

From a little pocket he took out his prettiest white dress and put it on. Then pop! up through the ground he came into the sunlight. He shivered a bit for a cool wind was sweeping through the woods. He held up his head proudly when he remembered that he was the messenger of the growing things.

He began to call softly but the wind at first bothered him.

"Winter, winter," he called again and then of a sudden Winter heard him and with a rush of cold that almost made the little snowdrop cry he stood before him.

He was tall, mighty and pure white and when he spoke the wind roared louder.

"What would you have?" he roared. "I have come from the growing things down underneath the earth," answered the snowdrop. "They have sent me to ask that you go away for another year so as they may leave their dark quarters and come forth into the sunlight."

Now old Winter in spite of his brusqueness was not altogether unkind and all of a sudden he began to realize that he had had a merry time for many months. "Yes," he said to himself, "it is their turn now." He turned once again to the snowdrop.

"It is all right, little snowdrop," he said. "I will leave the land this very day. Go tell your pretty friends to come forth."

Now you know that the snowdrop lasts only a very short while and because it is chosen messenger it is allowed to stay in the world a few days before it goes back and delivers its message. And so it was that it lingered and drank in the warm sunshine.

Some children came singing along through the woods and all of a sudden they spied the little snowdrop. "Oh, there is a snowdrop," they cried and one of the little girls stooped down and picked the snowdrop's pretty dress of white. The little flower was very glad to give her pretty white dress away.

It was now time for him to go back and tell the other flowers and he drew himself into the ground.

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON.

HOW can she be so interested in men's overshoes as all that? Perhaps she is married and is selecting a pair for her husband. But she doesn't look old enough to be married. Perhaps it's for her brother or father. How sweet of her!

So you meditate.

And then the sweet young person whom you have been watching as she gazed intently into a shop window, full of men's overshoes and rubbers, suddenly reaches up to her hat, twitches it abruptly into a more satisfactory angle, and captures and pinions with a hairpin a lock of her hair that has strayed from the place appointed for it.

Whereupon, if you are the least wee bit of a Sherlock Holmes, your wonder is solved.

The lady hasn't seen the rubbers or overshoes any more than if they had not been there at all. Her attention has been on far more important things. In plain words, she has been gazing thus intently into the mirror wherewith the shopkeeper adorns the back of his show window.

You see, she is one of that regrettably common type of women who are forever examining their features and admiring their beauties in mirrors in public places.

In the restaurant with its mirrored walls this type of woman continually casts covert glances at herself. She sees someone looking at her and pretends to be absorbed in the menu, but a minute or two later when she thinks she is unobserved she is at it again.

In the elevator at its store she is in a transport of happiness, for does it not have mirrors on all four walls, which not only enable her to see her face, but give her a delightful view of her back hair, a chance to see how her suit fits in the back and get a full idea of just how she looks from the rear?

In the street car in the evening you can see her gazing abstractedly out of the window opposite her. You cannot distinguish anything without because of the darkness, and you wonder how she can. She can't. But there's a reason. The darkness is obligingly making the square of the window into a most desirable mirror, and she is watching that most interesting of landscapes—to her—her own face.

If I were a man and saw a girl I was inclined to fancy doing this sort of thing I think it would sicken me more quickly than almost anything else.

If a woman thinks that her hair and hat need rearranging she should go into the rear room of the nearest hotel or shop and attend to them.

If that is impossible and some rearrangement is absolutely necessary, she should simply and frankly step in front of a public mirror, arrange these things as quickly as possible, and then pass on without any prolonged study of her charms.

Under any other circumstances she should no more look at herself in a mirror in a public place than she would perform any other act that properly belongs to the privacy of her chamber and toilet table.

SHORT WEIGHT.

A great deal is said in these days about short weight and most persons detest the man who is small enough to resort to this sort of thievery to increase his profits. To clip a little off of a pound of butter or a peck of potatoes may seem a small thing to the man who does it. His moral perception may be so badly antiquated that it acquiesces, but that doesn't justify his action.

But there is another type of man who is about as detestable as this one. It is he who short weights in his obligations to others; the man who shows no harm in clipping a little off of the service he gives his employer, thereby cheating him of a portion of that for which he pays; the man who sees no harm in clipping a little off of the duty he owes his family. The man who clips a little off of the obligation he owes society.

The woman who fails to fulfill her obligations as a woman is short weighting her associates because she is not giving them all they are entitled to. The mother who neglects her duties is short weighting her children. The daughter who fails in her duties as a daughter is short weighting her best friends. The wife who neglects her duties is short weighting her partner in a sacred obligation.

And the worst of it is that short weight can't be made up. There is no recompense that can be made to a cheated employer. There is none that can be made to a cheated family, a cheated wife or husband or to a wronged associate. The thing stands unredressed and unremediable.

Therefore, no one can afford to engage in the business of short weighting. The business man who does it is sure to get caught sometime in a way that will leave the finger of suspicion pointed at him for all time. The head of a family who does it is sure to find him punishment coming at a later day. The wife or the husband who does it is certain to find difficulties further along the road.

Men have been trying ever since the world began to break even on the swindling game but so far they have failed. Even if no one finds out about it, the man who cheats will be all but relentless in his conscience.

It is said that we pay for all we get in this world, and it is very nearly true. Those who seek to give good measure, whether it is in selling dry goods or butter, in selling their labor or marketing their brains, find a reward, for it ever so small, that is compensation for their honesty. The man who sows distrust through short weight is rewarded, too, but in a contrary way to that in which the square dealer follows him.

So let us, whatever we are doing, be sure to give correct weight. Our consciences will be clear at any rate and that is something.

It is wonderful the number of communications that can be brought into me in a mean context, it serves to bring out the ingenuity of the housewife to a remarkable degree in devising how to utilize many remnants of former meals, transforming them into dainty palatable dishes.

The present content of the Gazette has this idea in view. Of course the use of fruits, cereals and preserves, and the usefulness of the different meals and the use of these is left to the discretion of the housewife as no recipes for them will be published.

Serving the Easter Egg.

At a formal breakfast, all precautions should be taken to insure the freshness of the eggs. A conscientious hostess would be much mortified if she served chicken out of its proper course.

Easter Table Decoration.—When using eggs for cooking, break them at the small end and save the shells after removing the contents. Use these dainty receptacles set in moss holding spring beauties or violets. They may be weighted with a little sand in each to keep them in an upright position.

During the meatless days of Lent the egg is a favorite food and the following recipes may be suggestive to the busy housewife:

Grandmother's Favorite Egg Dish.—Put a tablespoonful of butter in an omelet pan, cover with fine bread crumbs. Over this lay thin slices of cheese. Season a few well beaten eggs, the number depending on the size of the family to be served, and pour over this, cover closely and heat slowly. When the white of the egg is opaque serve at once.

Poached Eggs a la Reine.—Cover circular pieces of toasted bread with sliced fresh mushrooms sautéed in butter and moistened with cream. Poach eggs and arrange on the mushrooms. Pour over a white sauce to which is added a sprinkling of cheese, and brown in the oven. Garnish with parsley.

Eggs and Potatoes.—Parboil three potatoes, drain and put a layer in a baking dish, then a layer of hard-boiled eggs. Season well, add a bit of onion juice and a layer of white sauce sprinkled with cheese. Repeat and finish with buttered crumbs. Brown in a hot oven.

When frying eggs, sprinkle a little flour over the pan before adding the eggs. Allow it to brown before dropping in the eggs.

Charlotte Baskets.

Beat yolks of two eggs till thick, and lemon colored, add one-half cup of sugar, gradually continuing beating; then add one and one-half tablespoons of cold water; put three-fourths tablespoon of cornstarch in a cup and add flour to half filled cup. Mix and sift cornstarch and flour with three-fourths tablespoon of baking powder and a pinch of salt, and add to first mixture. When well mixed add one-half teaspoon of lemon extract and whites of two eggs beaten stiff. Bake in buttered gem pans fifteen or twenty minutes, scoop out center, and fill with whipped cream.

Fudge Cake.

One cup sugar, two-thirds cup butter, three eggs, one cup milk, 2½ cups of flour, one heaping teaspoon baking powder, one-fourth cup of chocolate, one-half cup of English walnuts broken up coarsely.

Cream butter and sugar together, add the cup of milk and then stir in lightly the flour, in which the heaping spoonful of baking powder has been sifted. Stir in the chocolate, which has been dissolved by placing in a cup and setting in hot water; add nuts and lastly the eggs, which should be beaten, whites and yolks separately.

Chocolate Walnut Pudding.

Boil one pint of milk, add half a cup of sugar, three tablespoonfuls grated chocolate, one tablespoonful cornstarch; wet in a little cold milk; yolks of two eggs beaten light; cook in a double boiler until thick; remove from fire; add one-half cup of broken walnut meats; mix thoroughly; serve very cold in tall glasses with a big spoonful of whipped cream on top.

Rye Bread Made With Sour Milk.

Two and one-half cups sour milk, lard the size of an egg, a little salt, 3 cups rye meal, 1 cup bread flour, 2½ cups rye meal, 2 table-spoons molasses. Bake in a moderate oven until when tried with a knitting needle it will not stick.

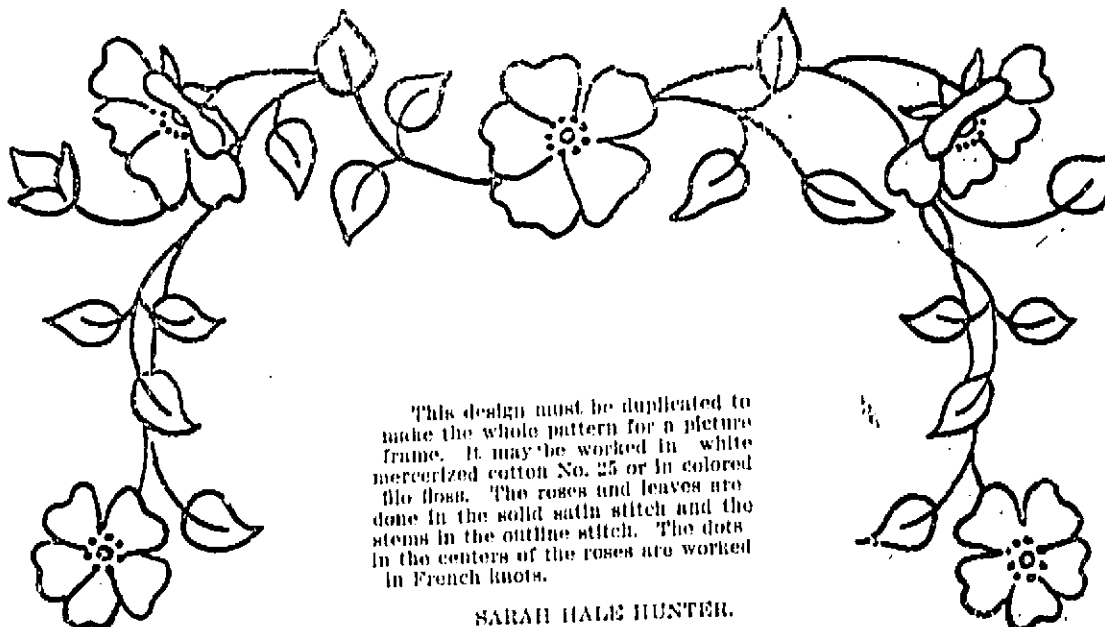

Turnip Soup.

Boil enough turnips, drain and rub through a sieve to make one pint, add to this two quarts hot milk, one-half teaspoonful soda, one tablespoonful salt, two tablespoonfuls onion juice; thicken with a little flour, pepper and a lump of butter; let come to a boil and serve.

Superstition About Clock.

The famous clock of Hampton Court palace, England, is said by many superstitious people to stop when a person long a resident in the castle dies. The first instance recorded is that of Anne of Denmark, queen of James I. The clock, which was striking four at the moment, immediately stopped. Other instances are cited.

Fads and Fashions

New York, April 18.—At their recent openings the importers have shown a wonderful variety of the most beautiful trimming materials ever displayed in this city. The manufacturers have indeed surpassed all previous records, in regard to variety, beauty of these materials. Never before have so many beautiful lines and such clever imitations of hand-made lace been shown as this year.

Bold lines for the flit and Venetian types are among the most emphasized of the season's trimmings, though there are plenty of French laces, filmy as cobwebs, and the fine old needlework laces of the lighter sort are eminently desirable for many purposes, as are the clever imitations of them. Never has the imitation or copying of real laces reached such perfection as it has this year, and it is often difficult even for an expert to distinguish between the real thing. The heavy flutes, Venetians and combinations are used upon the flimsiest of stuffs, and though gimp is as a rule exceedingly sheer, the great makers do not hesitate to introduce a glimpse of heavy lace when their fancy suggests such a whim. The culture shown in the shops are worthy of careful study this year and many of them might easily be duplicated, especially as the importers show cuttings of lace or embroidered muslin in a great variety of shapes. They also show cuttings of those materials so deplorable that they may be separated into sections and changed in shape or size without impairing the design of embroidery or lace. Girdles, sashes, labrets, gimpes, all these details are important and an obtain a host of valuable hints concerning them from the French model books in the various fashionable shops.

As was to be expected, the tailored suits remain in fashion. Twenty-four and twenty-six inch straight jackets are distinctly the best thing, fastened with three or four buttons. In some cases the fronts are square cut, others rounded, while a few have the cutaway effect, and among the most favored collars are the notch, shawl and sailor varieties, the last most prominent of all. The skirts for these suits are still cut on narrow lines, but not extreme, measuring at least two to two and one-half yards around the bottom. In many of the narrower skirts flat pleats are let in at the front, back and side, to give ease in walking. All of this is true of the severely tailored suits; semi-dressy models are also in vogue, however. Many of these are in satin and some a surah. The jackets are from twenty to twenty-four in length, and though many have been cut in box effect, the raised waist lines characteristic of the Empire styles are also in evidence.

This Empire effect is gained in various ways. Sometimes the coat is cut shortwaisted and is joined to a peplum. Again, the front and back forms are cut straight, but the side forms have a raised seam several inches above the normal waist line. As a third variety, the Empire effect is gained by the manipulation of trimmings. Paris also favors lion jackets and boleros, some with a small tail at the bottom to give a finishing touch. These which follow the egyptienne styles are known as egyptienne boleros.

Many of the semi-tailored models show three-quarter sleeves, nearly always cut in kimono form, or one with the body of the garment. The Charlotte Corday collar is another new touch. It is rounded in the back, and comes over the shoulders to form a ruff in front, which are sometimes crossed in front style, so as to meet at the waist line. The lace-trimmed boleros are also shown, as well as the soft draped revers which are just beginning to come into favor.

Except in the very dressiest suits skirts are of walking length. Nearly all the French suits are made with an inside belt, 1½ to 2 inches wide, which gives the raised waist line.

On the first night of a new piece, a pretty young actress advanced to the front of the stage flaunting in an exquisite new costume. "That must have cost 3,000 francs!" said, audibly, a lady who sat with her husband in the front row. "No, no—only 2,000," he said, mechanically. Then he found her eye fixed on him, and was silent.

QUALITY OR QUANTITY

Which Do You Prefer?—Newbro's

Herpicide Represents Quality.

Did you ever have a dealer offer you a large bottle of something and tell you it was a better remedy for the hair than Newbro's Herpicide and cheaper because in a larger bottle?

What? Certainly you knew you had. Many other people have too. What would you say to that same dealer were he to tell you a silver dollar was worth more than a five dollar gold piece because it is larger?

Such an attempt being a reflection upon your good sense you would probably say some rather pointed things to him. You would be justified. Your self-respect would demand it.

Well, there are just as many good reasons for the difference in size between those bottles as there are for the difference in size between the silver dollar and the five dollar gold piece.

The truth is that the large bottle isn't half large enough.

There is more virtue in a half pint of Newbro's Herpicide than in a gallon of some of the so-called hair preparations.

There is a dollar's worth of results in the bottle of Herpicide, but do you know what is in the other?

No? Then why buy it? Your judgment, intelligence and the experience of your friends, if not your own, cry out against it.

You know when you go into that store that Herpicide is what you need and want.

You KNOW that Herpicide is the original scalp prophylactic.

You KNOW that Herpicide kills the dandruff germ.

You KNOW that Herpicide stops falling hair.

You KNOW that Herpicide makes the hair light, fluffy and beautiful.

You KNOW that Herpicide makes way that you know the five dollar gold piece, notwithstanding its size, is more valuable than the silver dollar.

Then insist on having genuine Herpicide.

One dollar size bottles are sold and guaranteed by all druggists.

Applications obtained at the best barber shops and hair dressing parlors. Sent 10c. in postage or silver for sample and booklet to Tio Herpicide Co., Dept. R, Detroit, Mich. J. P. Baker special agent.

VIOLENT EMOTION STOPS DIGESTION.

Violent emotion, it is well known, affects digestion unfavorably. For instance, it may suspend the secretion of saliva, as shown by the test which has often been resorted to in India for the discovery of a thief among the servants of a family, "that of compelling all the parties to hold a certain quantity of rice in the mouth during a few minutes, the offender being generally discovered by the comparative dryness of his mouthful at the end of the experiment. It is also well established that the secretion of the gastric fluid is suspended by powerful mental emotion, and in fact, the whole digestive process.

THE SOUND SLEEP OF GOOD HEALTH

Can not be overestimated and any ailment that prevents it is a menace to health. J. L. Southern, Esq. of Chicago, Wis., says: "I have been unable to sleep soundly nights, because of pains across my back and soreness of my kidneys. My appetite was very poor and my general condition was much run down. I have been taking Foley Kidney Pills but a short time and now sleep as sound as a rock, my general condition is greatly improved, and I know that Foley Kidney Pills have cured me." Good results always follow the use of Foley Kidney Pills. They are a prompt corrective of urinary irregularities. Try them, Badger Drug Co.

AWAKE ALL NIGHT

Have you ever gone to bed, tired from head to foot, expecting to fall asleep almost as soon as your head touched the pillow—and then found yourself compelled to lie awake for hours, perhaps all night, with eyes wide open and brain active?

If so it is because your nerves are weak and the blood does not circulate equally—too much blood in the brain and not enough elsewhere. We always recommend Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic, in such cases. It does not cause you to go to sleep immediately but it acts as a tonic and strengthener to the tired nerves, and brings back normal health and strength. Sleeplessness means weakness—Vinol makes you strong. Mr. Geo. Hayes, Union City, Pa., says when he was run down and could not sleep, Vinol did him great good and he was able to get natural sleep. We give back your money if Vinol does not please.

A simple but sure way to increase the weight, it is asserted by several well known physicians, is to take regularly for several months, one or two 3-grain hypophosphite tablets after each meal.
